2.(Amended) An electronic recording system as set forth in claim 1 in which said recorded and sound data is in [the] a form of sound recording.

4.(Amended) An electronic recording system as set forth in claim 1 wherein said recording data is a sound recording and wherein the paper on which the identification code is printed contains written notes representing in graphic form [the] a content of the sound recording.

REMARKS

Claims 1 through 9 remain pending in this application with claims 2 and 4 having been amended.

The examiner has rejected claims 1 through 8 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hoda et al, US Patent No. 4,831,610. The examiner rejected claim 9 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hoda et al in view of Bergeron et al, US Patent No. 5,126,543.

The instant invention discloses a method for coordination of recordings with notes written at the time of the recording. A distinctive feature of this patent is that action is required to be taken at the time of recording to associate the recording specifically with the notes that will be taken during the recording. The instant invention provides a simple and error free way for doing this.
